

AA open training courses in 2012

Rosette Academy and Restaurant Academy

These interactive day courses provide the perfect opportunity for attendees to increase their knowledge of the AA Rosette scheme and improve their understanding of the criteria by which the AA assesses food quality.

Ideal for chefs, food and beverage managers and general managers, these courses feature a range of modules which demonstrate and provide advice on a host of topics including industry best practice, increasing your revenue, menu review and terminology, seasonality and locality, flavour and blind tastings.

The fee for either Rosette or Restaurant academy is £160+VAT. If delegates book both a place on the Rosette and Restaurant academy then the fee is reduced to £265 in total; dates available are shown below.
